At Home with the Marstons: The Legacy of the Marston House
 Saturday, May 9th • 12:00-1:00 p.m.
 Community Room

Curator and historian Robin Lakin will present the history of the Marston House Museum using storyboards, guiding attendees through the museum's stories. One of California's finest examples of the Arts and Crafts movement, the Marston House was constructed in 1905 for department store magnate George W. Marston, his wife, Anna Gunn Marston, and their family. George Marston is noted as a philanthropic civic leader whose interest and work in historic preservation, conservation, and history are well known. Designed by the acclaimed architectural team of William Sterling Hebbard and Irving J. Gill, the Marston House exemplifies fine design, craftsmanship, and progressive vision of Gill's work.

To extend the educational experience, participants will receive free passes to the Marston House Museum to explore the site in person.

Author Talk: I Don't Like Mondays: The True Story Behind America's First Modern School Shooting by N. Leigh Hunt
 Saturday, May 16th • 4:00-5:00 p.m.
 Community Room

Join author N. Leigh Hunt to learn how Brenda Spencer, a seemingly average teenager living in a nice suburban San Diego neighborhood in 1979, made and executed plans that made her infamous and set a violent and terrifying national precedent. A month after receiving a rifle for Christmas, she opened fire on an elementary school across the street. Mr. Hunt is a crime historian and broadcaster in the United Kingdom. He lives in Olney, Buckinghamshire, and considers San Diego his hometown.
