Monday, April 3, 2023 • 6:30 PM

Celebrate National Poetry Month at this very special event featuring distinguished poet and San Diego's new Poet Laureate Jason Magabo Perez. He is thrilled to read from his books This is for the mostless and I ask about what falls away and share his love for poetry with the community.

Dr. Perez is Associate Professor and Director of Ethnic Studies at California State University San Marcos. His work blends poetry, prose, performance, film/video, ethnography, and oral history to explore Filipino American histories, colonialism, state violence, migration, memory, and intimacy.
